About Gregor von Bonin

Gregor advises corporations and other investors in takeover offers and other investments in publicly listed companies as well as in cross-border private M&A transactions and global reorganisations.

Clients value Gregor's business-oriented and can-do approach and his ability to focus on the commercial objectives of a transaction on the basis of his profound technical skills. His international versatility, mindset and language skills are significant assets for those clients involved in complex cross-border transactions, investments outside their home jurisdiction and global reorganisations.

His experience and background is also highly valued by the boards of listed companies which he regularly advises in publicly sensitive situations, such as public takeovers and shareholder matters, as well as on corporate governance, liability and capital markets compliance questions.

Gregor has worked across many industries with particular experience in automation/manufacturing and chemicals as well as in infrastructure and real estate.

He is a native German and English speaker, conversational in French and has basic knowledge of Spanish.
